POSITION DESCRIPTION

A member of the Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art curatorial staff this position reports to the Director of the Museum and works in close collaboration with the Director of the Amistad Center of Art and Culture. The position is funded by the Amistad and works collaboratively with the staff of both organizations. The Amistad Center for Art & Culture Associate Curator for the African Diaspora will manage and develop the collections of African American art and the art and artifacts of the African Diaspora at the Wadsworth Atheneum and the Amistad Center for Art & Culture. S/he oversees the installation of galleries for the combined display of the permanent collections of both these institutions that highlight the art, history, and culture of the African diaspora. S/he proposes and executes temporary exhibitions as well as serving as in-house curator for traveling exhibitions from other institutions. The Associate Curator will also direct the museum-wide interpretation of historic representations of people of African descent and develop methods to foreground narratives that address past experiences and promote new and constructive histories. S/he will be responsible for the strategic management of The Amistad Center’s collection and work to promote and develop the collections and exhibition programs at both institutions. The Associate Curator will also develop partnerships with local, regional, national, and international institutions to promote the understanding and appreciation of Black history and culture and elevate The Amistad Center’s stature within the broader museum community.

Target $65,000 annual salary
